CREATIVE DIRECTION

Music: UK garage / electronic / hip-hop hybrid; hard bass drop at the product reveal. No corporate soundtrack.
Casting: Real-feeling urban Indian adults, 24-34; expressive, diverse and effortlessly cool.
Visual language: HIFI navy, orange and white; condensed kinetic typography; handheld shots, whip pans, crash zooms, direct flash and film grain.
Brand integrity: Use the actual HIFI can, logo and visual identity from the pitch deck.

HOW IT CONNECTS TO THE DECK

Slides 1 and 3: Vision and ambition. Slides 8-10: Market scale. Slide 12: Actual HIFI product. Slides 13-15: Consumer, culture and community-led marketing.

PRODUCTION NOTES

Brand first, numbers second. Market statistics occupy no more than two seconds. Avoid tourist imagery, staged models and generic beer-ad tropes. This should feel like a cultural movement with the potential to become a national beer brand.
Deliverables: 16:9 investor master and 9:16 mobile / WhatsApp cut. No voiceover; music, sound design, typography and product do the work.

ALTERNATIVE OPENING

A NEW INDIA. A NEW GENERATION. A NEW BEER.
Three sharp text hits across the opening six seconds, synchronized with the beat, followed by the HIFI product reveal.

Creative objective: Make investors feel they are seeing the emergence of India's next big beer brand - and want to open the deck to understand the business behind it.
